VICTORIA SKIMBOARDS & SURFLINE.COM FEEDING THE HUNGRY

Breaking news

Laguna Beach, CA – Victoria Skimboards was built by a skimboarder for skimboarders. Staying true to the ideology of “give back to what gives to you,” Victoria Skimboards teamed up with EarthCam to bring the world the first free twenty four (24) hour a day web camera dedicated to world renowned skimboard break Aliso Beach in Laguna Beach, CA.

Jump ahead one year and Victoria Skimboards broadens the number of viewers of the Aliso Beach Web Camera by teaming up with Surfline.com. Surfline.com is the world’s leading website for surf related information (swell, tides, surf cameras, etc.) and was a logical move for Victoria. “By teaming up with Surfline, our sport is now open to their viewership across the globe” stated Trigg Garner, General Manager for Victoria Skimboards.

“Aliso is intense and it will be good for people across the world that visit Surfline.com to be able to see skimboarders taking on this giant” adds Nick Aleandro, Sales Manager for Victoria Skimboards.

Never short on creativity, the relationship between Victoria Skimboards and Surfline.com has been solidified much to the thanks of Skimboarder’s and Surfer’s around the globe. Visit Surfline.com and click on the Aliso Creek camera or go to: http://www.surfline.com/surf-report/aliso-creek_4855/ for immediate access. Enjoy!
